SOCIETY NEWS OF OTHER TOWNS

I hope some one will pick up the old name Big Pine Valley and write the news of that place every week for you know how anxious we will be to hear from our old neighborhood. We think Mr. Taft's denunciation of Cox is like the old man's bug. Once there was an old bugologist who could tell the name of every insect that was brought before him, so one day some smart boys thought they would fool the old man, and went and caught everything in the bug species they could find and took a piece of all the bugs and stuck them together with mucilage and made a large bug of the pieces and brought to the man for detection. After a careful examination, the old man said, "Did the bug hum when you caught it," and one of the boys said, "Yes Sir," and the old man said "then it is a humbug." UNCLE HEZ.

MEMORIALS

ELIZABETH MCBROOM.

One of the largest funerals ever held in Laurel occurred Thursday, March 12, when Mrs. Elizabeth McBroom, wife of J. R. McBroom, was laid to rest in the German cemetery, west of Laurel. The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Kind hands, which she in life had strengthened, now brought flowers to show their appreciation of the service given by a noble life.

Elizabeth Zeller was born June 12, 1843, near Rockbridge, Hocking county, Ohio. She was the oldest of the family. Four brothers and five sisters survive her. On March 3, 1863, she was united in marriage to J. R. McBroom, who had grown up in the same neighborhood and whom she had known from childhood. In 1868 Mrs. McBroom, with her family, came to Marshall county, Iowa, where she lived until her death. She was the mother of five sons—Ellsworth M. F., F. Howard, and J. R. Courtland, of Laurel, Ed V., of Grundy Center, and M. Carroll, of Marshalltown.

For some months past Mrs. McBroom had not been enjoying her usual good health, but was able to be up and about her work. On Thursday, March 5, she took to her bed with a severe illness, from which she was unable to recover, dying at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 10, 1908. In early life Mrs. McBroom joined the Methodist church and continued a faithful member until she was called home. She was a most devoted christian in every phase of life, always abounding in the work of the Lord. A triumphant death was hers. The Saviour whom she loved and served was with her in the valley and shadow of death and she feared no evil. Thus passed a brave, useful and devoted spirit from labor to reward. A life spent in worthy preparation went to the larger sphere of usefulness, and the greater opportunities of the heavenly world.

Those present from a distance were Will Zeller, brother, of Parker, S. D.; Mrs. Lon Sullivan, sister, and daughter Maggie, of New Sharon; Mrs. Sarah Smith, sister and daughter Allie, of Kellogg; Mrs. Tena Helzel, of Newburg; Jacob Hockman and wife, Orinell; Charles, Homer and Floyd McBroom, of Cedar Rapids, E. A. McBroom, wife and daughters Ethel and Mabel, of Grundy Center, Charles Smith and wife, of Kellogg, Joe Smith and family, of Kellogg, M. C. McBroom and Maud McBroom, of Marshalltown. Funeral services were held in the

ROBERT CURRAN.

Robert Curran, died at his home in New Straitsville, April 12, 1908, in his 89th year.

He had been in feeble health, due to his advanced age, for the past three months, and death was hastened by grief at the loss of his wife who preceded him to the world beyond just three weeks.

He was the second son in a family of fifteen children. Of this family a sister and brother survive him.

He was born in Clairsville, Penn., and while an infant his parents came to Ohio. The family lived in Southern Perry Co., where he worked on the farm, going to school in the winter until he had acquired a common school education, and for several years was a teacher in the district schools.

In 1848 he went to Hocking county where he engaged in the tobacco business at Logan.

In 1851 he was married to Arabella Barker. Fifty-seven years of married life they journeyed together sharing alike, joys and sorrows.

After his marriage he moved to an uncle's farm in Green township, where he endured the hardships of pioneer life.

During the winter he again taught school, and his home was the meeting place of all teachers of the surrounding community who came to him for counsel and advice.

In politics he was a staunch Democrat, and in 1872 was elected by that party to the office of sheriff, in which he served for two terms. At the time he went into office he moved to Logan.

In 1880 the family moved to Junction City, and two years later came to New Straitsville, where they have resided for the last twenty-six years.

For several years he was proprietor of the hotel where he was a genial host to the traveling public.

Of a family of seven children, two sons and two daughters are left to mourn the loss of both parents.

They have passed down to the close of life peacefully and surrounded by the loving kindness of their children who have obeyed the command; "Honor thy father and mother, that the days may be long on the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

MES. JASPER SLATZER.

Susannah B. Allen, daughter of Benjamin and Sidney Allen was born in Hocking county, Ohio, on the 7th day of January 1840, and departed this life on the 12th day of April 1908. Aged 68 years, 3 months and 5 days.

She was the youngest daughter and only surviving member of the family, consisting of father, mother, 3 sons, and 2 daughters. She was united in marriage to Jasper Slatzer on the 22nd day of September 1862, and we believe this union, though by death, forever severed here may be eternally re-united in that world where sickness, sorrow, pain and death are felt and feared no more.

When only 13 years old she enjoyed the realities of the second birth and was enabled to declare that there was efficacy in the blood of Christ, to cleanse from all sin, and she joined the M. E. Church at Wesley Chapel, on what is now known as Orland charge, under the pastorate of Rev. N. L. Jones and remained a consistent member of said church until transferred to the Church Triumphant in Heaven.

She leaves to mourn their loss, a husband, one stepson, three step-grandchildren, six nephews and four nephews, and a large number of friends yet, with the consolation that we believe our loss to be her eternal gain, and that she is in reality enjoying that home as described by the poetess in the following stanza.

That unchangeable home is for you and for me,
Where Jesus of Nazareth stands;
The King of all kingdoms forever is he,
And he holdeth our crowns in his hands.
Oh how sweet it will be in that beautiful land,
So free from all sorrow and pain!
With songs on our lips, and harps in our hands,
To meet one another again.

CARD OF THANKS.

The husband of the deceased wishes to extend to his neighbors and friends his sincere thanks for the aid and assistance furnished and kindness shown him in this sad hour of bereavement.

JASPER SLATZER.
